

OBITUARY

Dr. Denise Celine Reynolds became a resident of Thailand and joined SEAMEO-TROPMED as the Technical Assistant to Professor Dr. Chamlong Harinasuta, the Coordinator of SEAMEO-TROPMED Project in 1968, responsible for the publication activities of SEAMEO-TROPMED.

Dr. Denise, as she was known to friends and colleagues in Thailand and all over the world, was born and raised in Burma where she studied and obtained her M.B.B.S. Degree. Through her dedication, the "Southeast Asian Journal of Tropical Medicine and Public Health" has been internationally recognized as one of the most outstanding biomedical journals where research scientists in tropical medicine would use as an outlet of their scientific achievements and research findings.

In addition to the "Southeast Asian Journal of Tropical Medicine and Public Health", Dr. Denise was responsible for the publication of the Proceedings of TROPMED's Seminars and Technical Meetings which were distributed to medical schools, research institutions within and outside of Southeast Asian Region.

We share the grief with Dr. Denise's family for the untimely death of our beloved Denise.

Chamlong Harinasuta

Chamlong Harinasuta, M.D., D.T.M., Ph.D., D.Sc.
Coordinator, SEAMEO-TROPMED Project