

Save Myanmar

At least 20 people have been killed in a landslide as monsoon rains continue to batter parts of South-East Asia.

The landslide in the eastern Indian state of Manipur buried a whole village, Indian media reported.

In neighbouring Myanmar, four western regions have been declared disaster zones after heavy floods left at least 27 people dead.

Incessant rain over several weeks has led to flooding and landslides in most of the country (also known as Burma).
