

TROPMED INTERNATIONAL STUDENT Guide

Welcome to TropMed

Our FTM has welcome foreign students since 1967, when the graduate Diploma in Tropical Medicine and Hygiene (DTM&H) program went international. At present, we have 9 regular international postgraduate programs, all taught in English, ranging from graduate diploma to doctoral degree. Those courses equip doctors, researchers, scientists, and health personnel who are involved in tropical medicine and public health, with the skills they need to further their careers, and to make positive impact on healthcare problems in the tropics and elsewhere. Our graduates pursue successful careers in public and private sector healthcare services both in consultation and in research institutions nationally and internationally.

We know that, initially, life can be challenging for foreign students in Thailand due to many factors. You may feel a little disorientated because of the new surroundings, different culture, language, and traditions. You have to cope with day-to-day activities of normal life and you have to study hard to succeed in your chosen program. This is quite a complex task for anyone.

However, from past experience, we can tell you that the survival and success rates of our students have been almost 100%. Therefore, we feel totally confident you can rise to this challenge.

We sincerely hope that this International Student Guide will help you to settle quickly, feel more comfortable in your temporary home at TropMed, and will help you to relax and enjoy many exciting experiences awaiting you. Always remember that you are not alone – our staff members are here to support you; they really want to see you succeed in your studies and have an enjoyable time doing so. You will also form networks of close friends and colleagues among your groups that will endure throughout your careers, wherever you are.

We are delighted that you have chosen to study with us, and wish you every success – with your studies, your extracurricular activities, and your future careers.

Must-See

1

The Grand Palace

Bangkok's famous palace complex was built in 1782 and features several magnificent buildings including Wat Phra Kaeo (Temple of the Emerald Buddha), which contains a beautiful Emerald Buddha that dates back to the 14th century.

2

Golden Mountain

Wat Saket, popularly known as the Golden Mount or 'Phu Khao Thong', is a low hill crowned with a gleaming gold chedi. Within, the 58-metre chedi houses a Buddha relic and welcomes worshippers all year round. The temple also hosts an annual temple fair in November, which lasts a week during Loy Krathong.

3

Maha Jessada Bodin

The beauty of the streets seemed better for Ratchadamnoen but very few know that the road Ratchadamnoen courtyard pavilion Maha Jessada Bodin. The old building has 4 floors that are located side by side. As the beginning of the Rattanakosin area to enter the ceremony. When the past is like a gateway to the period.

4

Marble Temple

Wat Benchamabophit is also known as the marble temple, it is one of Bangkok's best-known temples and a major tourist attraction. It typifies Bangkok's ornate style of high gables, stepped-out roofs and elaborate finials.

5

Sleeping Buddha

Wat Pho, it's one of the largest temple complexes in the city and famed for its giant reclining Buddha that measures 46 metres long and is covered in gold leaf.

6

Temple of Dawn

Wat Arun is easily one of the most stunning temples in Bangkok, not only because of its riverside location, but also because the design is very different to the other temples you can visit in Bangkok. Wat Arun (or temple of the dawn) is partly made up of colourfully decorated spires and stands majestically over the water.

7

The Giant Swing

The Giant Swing is a religious structure in Phra Nakhon. According to the Brahmin belief, it served for swing ceremony. Despite its 22 meter height, a group of men would swing on it each year to thank Gods for abundant harvest.

8

The Ananta Samakhom Throne Hall

It is a large impressive building in Dusit district in Bangkok, was built by King Chulalongkorn (Rama V) to serve as a reception hall for the Dusit Palace. Built in Italian Renaissance style, the two storey Throne Hall resembles the famous Sistine Chapel in the Vatican City in Italy.

Do and Don't in Thailand

Do

Do "Wai": It is a very nice greeting posture to show your respect to the person especially elder or superior person ex. parents, lecturers etc. Wai is also used to say thank you and goodbye. To do wai, press your palms together at chest or chin level as if you are praying, then bow your head to your hands and bow your upper body slightly

Do

Do "dress up properly": When you come to your class; our school office; to enter temples; to contact lecturers; government officers etc., don't come up with singlet; sleeveless shirt; short clothes; hot pants; slippers etc. In Thai cultures, these mean showing no respect to that person or place.

Do

Do “take a good care of your pocket or valuable things”: When you are in the crowded areas.

Don't

Don't “touch or play on head of the elder or superior person” : Head is considered the most sacred part of the body, a younger or inferior person should not touch or play on head of the elder or superior person. A sincere apology should be offered immediately, if you touch the person's head unintentionally.

Don't

Don't “climb onto any Buddha image or do anything which might indicate a lack of respect: Each Buddha image is regarded as a sacred object. Sacrilegious Acts are punishable by imprisonment even if committed by foreign visitors.

Don't

Don't “point your leg to people or person”: Feet are considered to be the lowest part of the body, pointing with the feet is rude. So, don't use your feet to point things out or to touch any part of the body of anyone which is considered very rude, particularly not towards Buddha images.

Things to Do

1

Shopping

MBK Center is probably Bangkok's most legendary shopping mall. There are eight floors packed with 2,000 shops that sell everything from clothing, fashion accessories, handbags, leather products and luggage to furniture, mobile phones, electric appliances, cameras, stationery and DVDs.

2

Museum

The Museum of Siam is a surprising exhibition, and even if museums are usually not part of your holidays, it's a great introduction to Thailand's spirit and culture without ever being boring. And as it's located not far from Wat Pho, it's a nice addition to a day trip in this part of Bangkok.

3

Park

Lumphini Park is a 360 rai park in Bangkok, Thailand. The park offers rare open public space, trees, and playgrounds in the Thai capital and contains an artificial lake where visitors can rent boats.

4

Cycling

Rot Fai Park (Suan Rot Fai) is a wide grassy expanse, you will find hordes of bike riders every weekend, attracted by the lush nature that abounds all around. Birds, lizards, turtles and hundreds of grand old trees make a beautiful backdrop to a leisurely cycle around the 2 km bitumen cycle track. The cycle track is flat and easy to ride.

5

Music

Studio Lam is owned by DJ Maft Sai, an artist known for making unique music that mixes traditional Thai music with ethnic music, funk and other genres.

6

Floating Market

Khlong Lat Mayom is one of the three floating markets located close to Bangkok, no more than twenty kilometres from town and accessible by taxi from Wongwian Yai (the last BTS station on the Silom Line). Khlong Lat Mayom has the charm and authenticity of a local market and you might be one of the only foreigners around.

7

Thai Silk

The Jim Thompson Outlet is only one of many silk stores throughout Thailand with this signature name on it. This outlet is the best, however, because of its pricing. Do not let the Jim Thompson House Museum's souvenir shop prices discourage you, as the outlet store has an even better selection of this famous Thai silk at much lower prices.

8

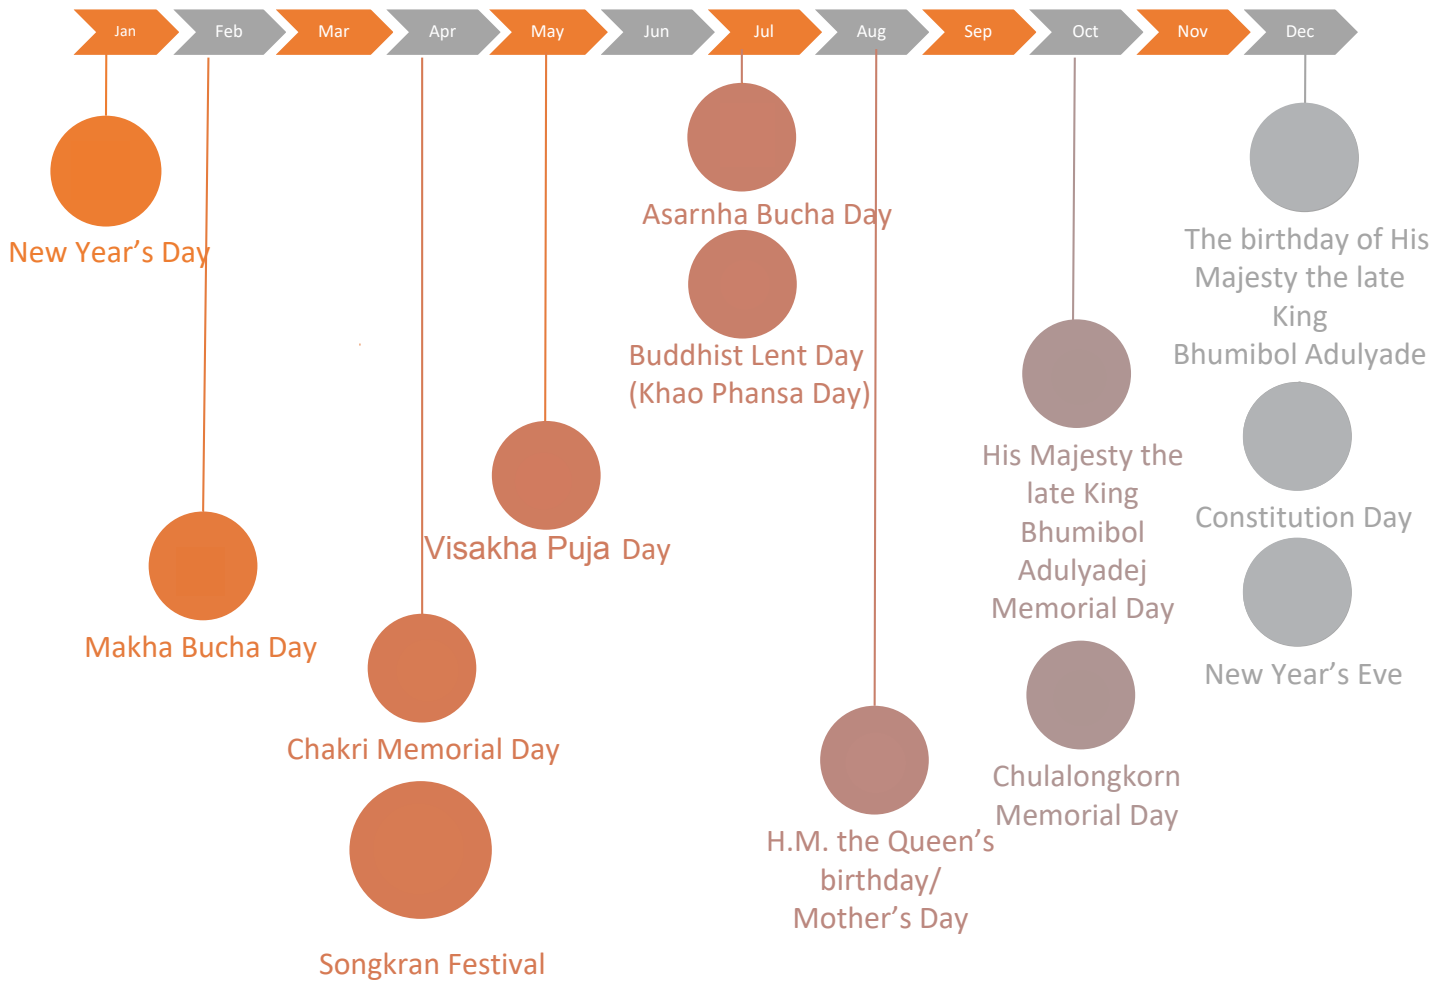

Street Food

Yaowarat, Chinatown Bangkok goes way beyond a tourist attraction. It is a working Chinatown with two distinct atmospheres. The Chinatown market by day and a massive open air food market by night.

Medical and Dental Services

Medical services: Hospital for Tropical Diseases in the Faculty of Tropical Medicine serves both OPD and IPD. Although it is specialized in Tropical Medicine, most of the diseases can be treated here. However, there is no Surgery/Trauma or OB/GYN in the Hospital. In addition, our hospital operates Travel Medicine Clinic, Chinese Traditional Medicine Unit and Traditional Thai Massage Unit.

If our students have more serious problems that cannot be treated here, we can transfer them to Ramathibodi Hospital which is a modern medical center with all fields of sub-specialities and modern technologies. Ramathibodi Hospital is under Mahidol University and just near our campus.

Dental Services: The Dental clinic at the Faculty of Dentistry, adjacent to the Faculty of Tropical Medicine is available. All students need to check-up first for a record, so that the payment for upcoming dental care can be reimbursed. Our school staff will arrange the check-up.

Getting Around

The busses that stop at TropMed are numbers 8, 12, 14, 18, 28, 92, 97, 108, 125, 171, 509, 515, 536, 539, and 542 Please call 1348 for route information.

Taxis are cheap and air conditioned. They are required to use their meter but some drivers will attempt to negotiate a rate. All taxis have a TAXI-METER sign on the roof, yellow license plates. Taxis are available 24 hours, price is on meter which will start from 35 baht for the first 2 km. Meter will not stop during traffic jam!!! You can use the application (GrabTaxi) from smartphone to come and pick you up at your place with extra pay about 20-30 baht.

Around Victory Monument, city vans service to outbound of Bangkok. This way is faster than bus but you have to wait long line during rush hour. Fare ranges from 20- to 50 baht depending on distance.

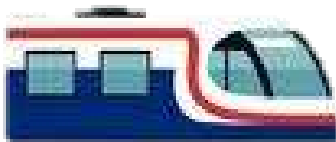

These three wheeled taxis are a symbol of Thailand, named by the sound they make, these are a distinctively, properly called a “sam-lor” are generally the quickest way to get somewhere around the city but they are rather dangerous. If you take a long trip in them, you will be quite dirty at the end. Be sure to negotiate the fare before starting your trip. Bargaining is needed to make an agreement on the fare.

Motorcycle Taxi can be found many street corners. This helpful for beating the traffic in an unavoidable rush hour cross-town journey but it is risky. Prices normally start from 10 baht. If you will take longer distance, the fare is on bargaining and agreement. Just walk up to the driver, tell him where you want to go. The driver is supposed to supply you with a safety helmet and you are supposed to wear it.

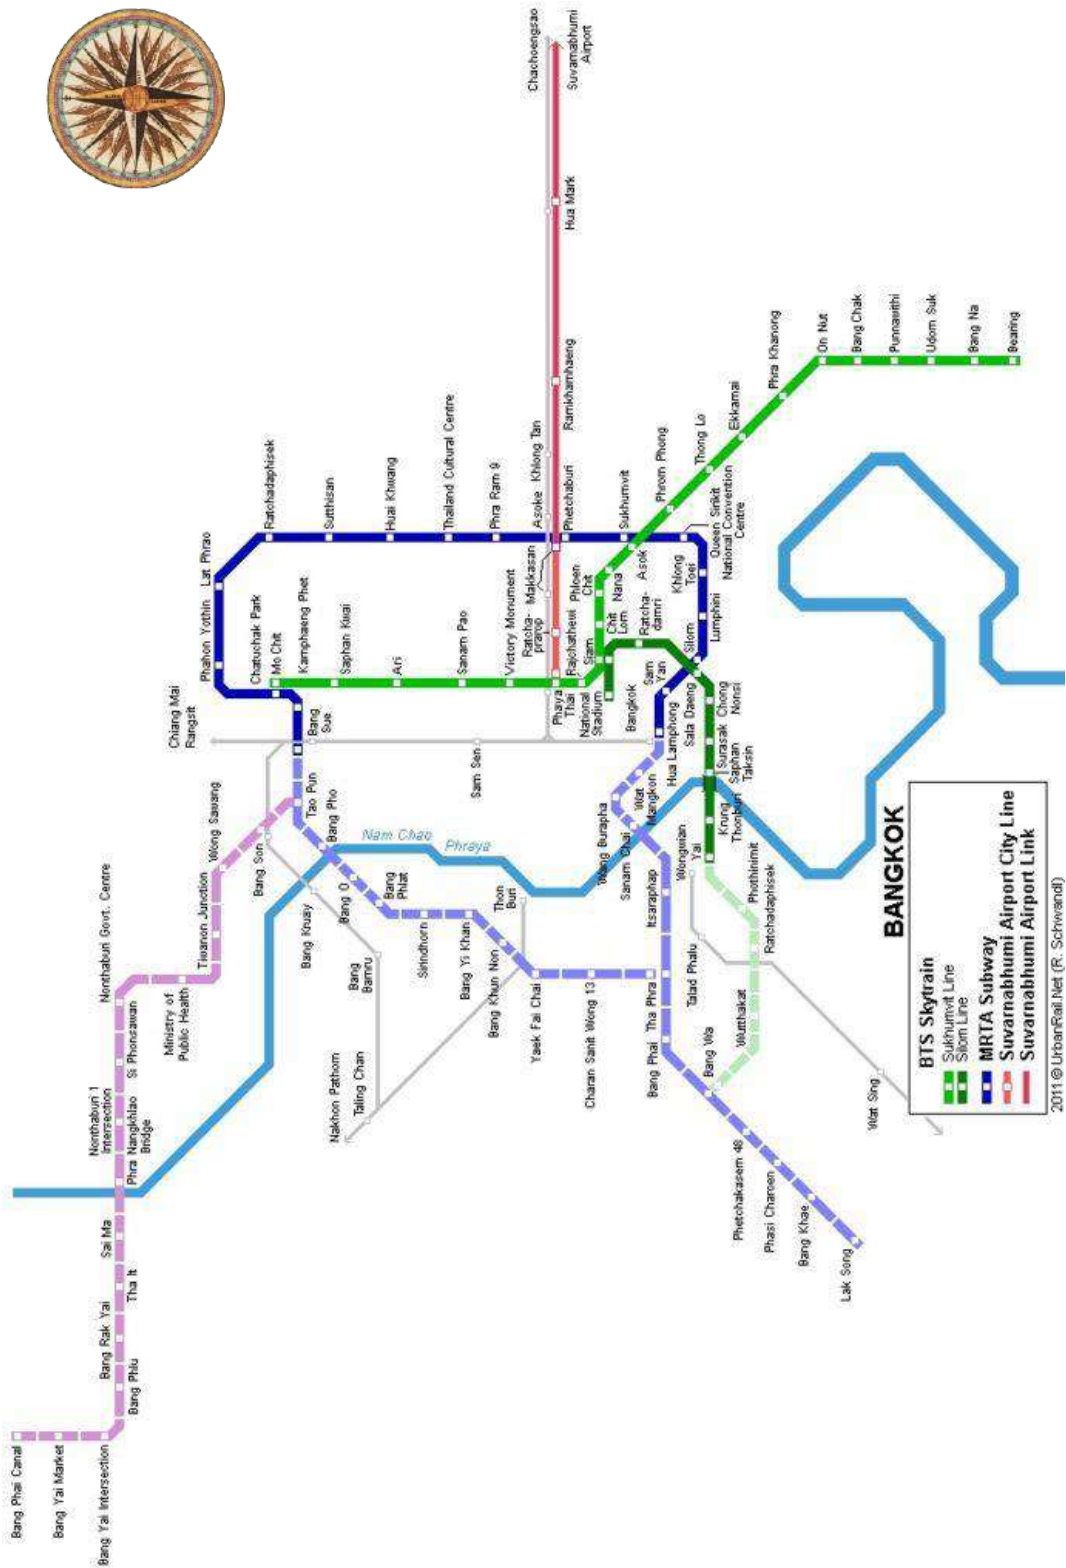

There are many types of taxi boats for travelling along Chao Phraya River and many canals (Klong). For example: Chao Phraya Ferry boat, Express boat, Long-tail boat etc. Fare is vary from 3-30 baht depending on the type of boat and distance.

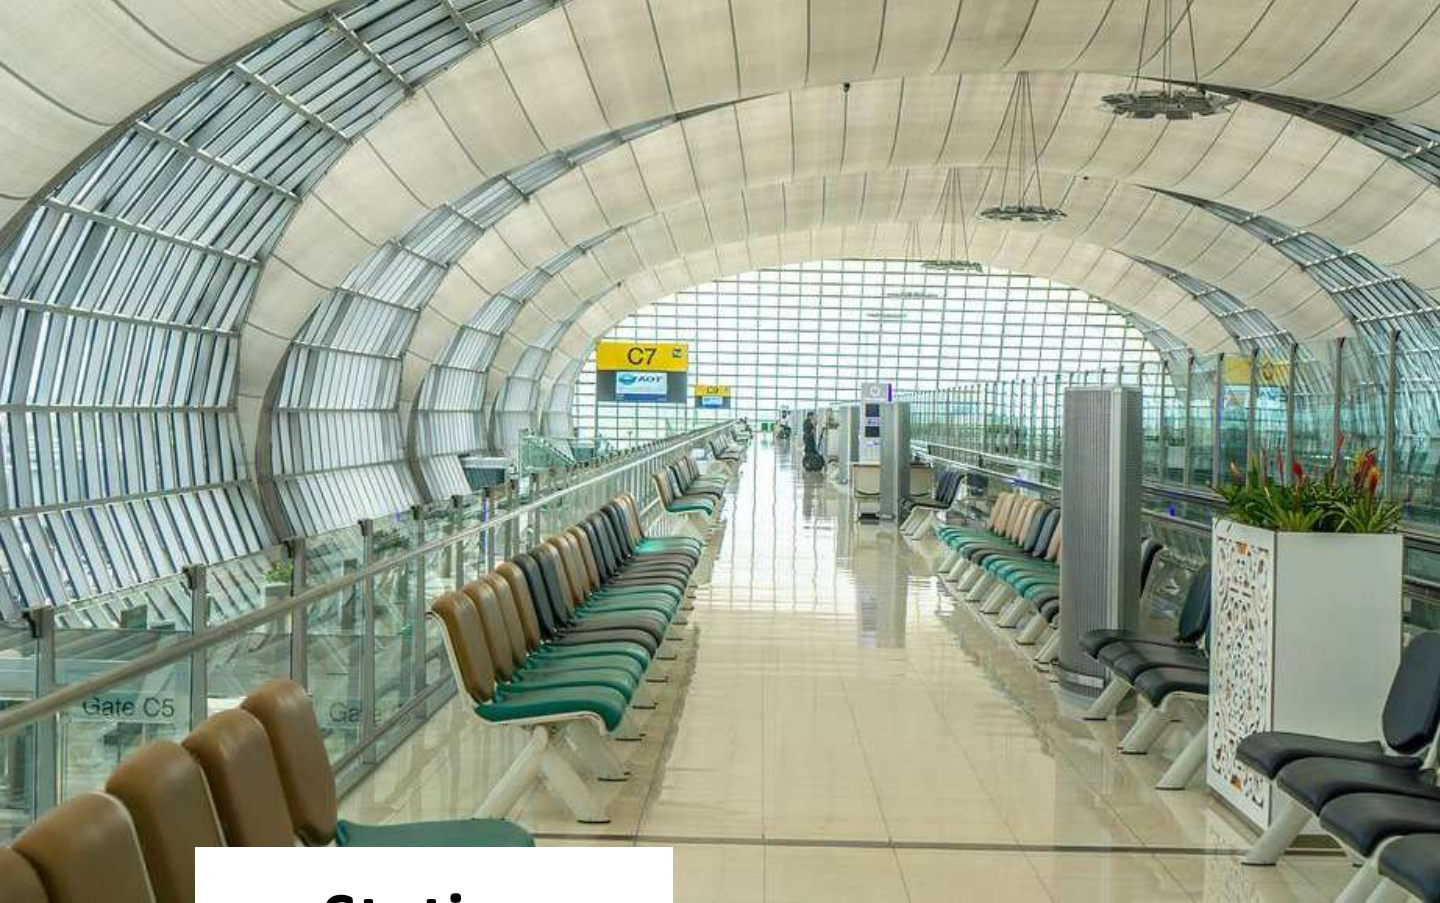

BTS- is the Skytrain system in Bangkok and for traveling along the main Sukhumvit line from Bearing to Mo Chit and on Silom line from Bang Wa to National Stadium. The fare is minimum 15 and maximum 52 Baht which depends on how far you want to go.

MRT line is the subway in Bangkok which runs from the Bangkok Railway Station Hua Lamphong to Bang Sue. Convenient, faster and safer, the fare starts from 14 THB up to 42 THB maximum.

Station

Two airports, Suvarnabhumi Airport (Bangkok International Airport) and Don Mueang International Airport serve as regional gateway and connection point among countries in this area. Suvarnabhumi Airport serves for most full service airline and most of low cost airlines are operated at Don Muang Airport.

Hua-lumphong station is the main railway station in Bangkok and Thailand. It is located on Rama IV Road. More than 200 trains are serviced a day and it will be crowded with people during long holiday. You can go by MRT (Hua Lamphong station).

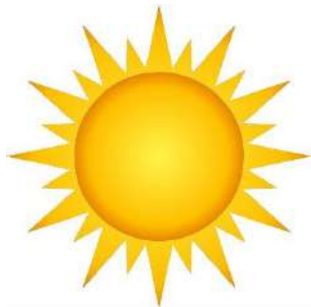

Ekkamai is the bus terminal that bound for Bangkok-Eastern part of Thailand such as Chonburi (You will know by Pattatya). It is located near BTS station (Ekkamai station).

Mo-chit is the bus terminal that bound for Bangkok-Northern and Northeastern part of Thailand. You can go there from FTM by BTS to Mo-chit station and change to MRT line to Kampangeth station.

Sai-tai-mai is the bus terminal that bound for Bangkok-Southern part of Thailand. The simplest way to go this terminal is taxi.
